Thanksgiving Day

OUR BLESSINGS STILL FLOW

In This Thanksgiving Day, take a few minutes to think about what you have to be thankful for.

Hows your health? Not so good? Well, thank God you've lived this long. A lot of people have'nt. You're hurting? Thousands-maybe millions-are hurting more.

If you awakened this morning and were able to hear the birds sing. Use your vocal chords to utter human sounds, walk to the breakfast table on two good legs and read the newspaper with two good eyes, praise the Lord? A lot of people couldn't.

Hows your pocketbook? Thin? Well, most of the world is a lot poor er. No pensions. No Welfare. No food stamps. No Social Security. In fact, one third of the people in the world will go to bed hungry to night.

As a final thought, I'll repeat my Thanksgiving prayer; perhaps you will want to use it at your table.

O heavenly Father: We thank thee for food and remember the hungry;

We thank thee for health and remember the sick; We thank thee for friends and remember the friendless;

We thank thee for freedom and remember the enslaved; May these remembrances stir us to service,that thy gifts to us may be use for others. Amen.

UNITED NEGRO COLLEGE FUND PAYS TRIBUTE TO THE LATE HOLLIS F. PRICE

The United Negro College Fund pays tribute to the memory of Dr. Hollis F. Price who died at age 78, on Saturday, November 6 in Memphis, Tn.

Dr. Price led LeMoyne-Owen College as President for 27 years, from 1943-1970. Since 1970 he served as President Emeritus and a member of the Board of Trustees of the college.

He played an important role in the founding of the United Negro College Fund in 1944, with LeMoyne College becoming a charter member. (LeMoyne College merged with Owen College in 1968.) Dr. Price has served on UNCF's Board of Directors. He directed UNCF's fund raising activities during a leave of absence from LeMoyne-Owen College in 1954.

The following anecdote describes Dr. Price's philosophy on education and brotherhood. During the turbulent 1960s, students at LeMoyne College planned to hold a sit-in at a lunch counter in downtown Memphis. Rather than dissuade them, Dr. Price suggested that they demonstrate at the public library instead. He explained to the students that protesting access to books would have greater impact than protesting the right to eat a hot dog at a luncheonette. The students followed his suggestion.

LeMoyne-Owen College is one of 42 private, historically black colleges affiliated with the United Negro College Fund.

SALVATION ARMY

On Friday, November 26, The Salvation Army in Tacoma will launch its Christmas Kettle campaign with a kick-off ceremony at 11:00 a.m. The event will take place at the Tacoma Mall Bon Marche.
The Master of Ceremonies will be Graham Kerr, as thirty of Tacoma's community leaders will "ring the bell for The Salvation Army." A Salvation Army brass ensemble will be on hand to provide Christmas music.
The funds raised through this year's Kettle Drive will help more than 2500 area needy families with Christmas food baskets and toys. The demand this year is far in excess of current funds and supplies to meet these human needs. "Our hours are long." notes Major Al Jarvie, "but the rewards are great." Seeing someone's life turned around as a result of our program makes it all worthwhile. And sharing our Christmas with those less fortunate gives the season a special significance.
Donations are tax-deductible and help The Salvation Army serve during the holiday season, as well as throughout the year wherever there is need.
Submitted by Lieutenant Becky Sparks, 572-8452.

JOHN 15

I am the true vine, and my Father is the husbandman.

Every branch in me that beareth not fruit he taketh away: and every branch that beareth fruit, he purgeth it, that it may bring forth more fruit.

Now ye are clean through the word which I have spoken unto you.

Abide in me, and I in you. As the branch cannot bear fruit of itself, except ye abide in the vine; no more can ye, except ye abide in me.

I am the vine, ye are the branches: He that abideth in me, and I in him, the same bringeth forth much fruit: for without me ye can do nothing.

If a man abide not in me, he is cast forth as a branch, and is withered; and men gather them, and cast them into the fire, and they are burned.

If ye abide in me, and my words abide in you, ye shall ask what ye will, and it shall be done unto you.

Herein is my Father glorified, that ye bear much fruit; so shall ye be my disciples.

As the Father hath loved me, so have I loved you: continue ye in my love

If ye keep my commandments, ye shall abide in my love; even as I have kept my Father's commandments, and abide in his love.

These things have I spoken unto you, that my joy might remain in you, and that your joy might be full.

This is my commandment, That ye love one another, as I have loved you.

Greater love hath no man than this, that a man lay down his life for his friends.

Ye are my friends, if ye do whatsoever I command you.

Henceforth I call you not servants; for the servant knoweth not what his lord doeth: but I have called you friends; for all things that I have heard of my Father I have made known unto you.

Ye have not chosen me, but I have chosen you, and ordained you, that ye should go and bring forth fruit, and that your fruit should remain: that whatsoever ye shall ask of the Father in my name, he may give it you.

We welcome news of your church and civic events.

THE NAMIBIA TANGLE

Few Americans have even heard of Namibia, a nation in southwest Africa illegally ruled by South Africa. But unless the long-simmering dispute regarding Namibia's long-overdue independence is resolved soon, it may wind up as a major setback for U.S. policy.

Virtually no one argues any more that South Africa has a right to be in Namibia. It got a protectorate over the territory after World War I and was supposed to prepare it for independence; instead it tried to incorporate it into South Africa.

The U.N. took away the mandate in 1966. The International Court of Justice ruled in 1971 that South Africa's occupation of Namibia was illegal. South Africa stands alone in maintaining it has the right to withhold independence.

Negotiations have been going on for six years between South Africa and an American-led group of western nations to bring independence to Namibia.

South Africa has continually stalled, making grudging concessions one by one, until finally, it seemed last year that an agreement was in sight.

But then the South Africans came up with a new ploy. They said they could not leave Namibia unless the 15-20,000 Cuban troops in neighboring Angola also pulled out. The Angolans say they can't ask the Cubans to leave until attacks from South Africa end.

By dragging the issue of Cubans in Angola into the complex negotiations for Namibian independence, South Africa is clearly trying another delaying tactic.

This time it worked, as the U.S. fell for the South African line. U.S. negotiators, over the objections of our western allies, proceeded to link the two issues of Cuban troops in Angola and South Africans in Namibia. Instead of keeping the heat under the South Africans to withdraw, we've been diverted to negotiating with a nervous Angolan government fearful of further South African attacks on its territory.

If the U.S. stuck to the primary goal of Namibian independence, it would be far more likely to achieve its other goal -- the withdrawal of Cuban troops from Angola

Instead, by linking the two issues, our southern Africa policy seems doomed to failure. We've been manipulated by South Africa into delaying a final settlement that brings independence to Namibia and South African withdrawal from illegal occupation of that country.

The future of southern Africa and of U.S. - African relations is too important to allow a minority racist regime in South Africa to call the tune.

Mr. Steve Orfanos and all Black and Minority Umpires

Gentlemen:

In re: Discrimination in Basketball, Football and Baseball

On November 8, 1982 I sent letters to schools, community colleges, Universities, newspapers and local minority groups charging that football, basketball and baseball were discriminating against Black and minority officials in sports officiating in the State of Washington.

I want to apologize to each of you, and personally to Mr. Steve Orfanos, the Secretary of the Umpires Association (baseball). My letter was intended for football beyond the local level and basketball at all levels. Although I have received rather good schedules in football, in basketball I have not had a regular schedule during my career. I must state further, that in baseball I have done well and have received top rated assignments. For example, in baseball I have worked high school Division play-off's and I have also worked the community college finals. Also, I have worked slowpitch softball tournament finals, both men's and women's leagues. I cannot complain against baseball. To each of you baseball umpires, please accept my apology. Baseball has been fair to Black/Minority umpires locally and more fair than football or basketball beyond the local level. Other Blacks have worked from the Division play-off's all the way to the N.C.A.A. play-off's.

I realize the local secretary does not have the final say as to who will work district and state games; he only recommends who will work. This was what I intended to say in the November 8 letter.

Sincerely,

Lee A. Jones, Jr.

jewel of Africa tarnishes Corruption

Kinshasa, Zaire -- Bankrupt and riddled with corruption, Zaire is no longer the "jewel of Africa" but one of the continent's most paralyzed states. Most people blame one man, President Mobutu Sese Seko.

The country's opulence during the 1960s, after the lengthy civil war that followed Zaire's independence from Belgium, has been transformed into national desperation with 100 percent inflation, vast foreign debts and a lifeless economy.

Mobutu, who has ruled with an iron hand since 1965, is accused of corruption on a massive scale, repression and cynical exploitation of Zaire's great natural resources.

Kickbacks to officials, in this nation of 30 million, are said to be a way of life.

Mobutu, 52, wears a leopard skin hat and always carries a tribal stick. He blames an international economic system based "on injustice, inequality and exploitation" for Zaire's plight.

American foreign policy continues to back Mobutu.
